

MDOT WEB PORTAL PRIVACY POLICY

Thank you for visiting the Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) Web portal and reviewing our privacy policy. Because MDOT values its visitors, we only collect the minimum amount of information necessary to serve our customers. MDOT will collect no personal information about you when you visit its Web portal unless you voluntarily choose to provide that information by entering information in an online form, registering for an MDOT account, participating in a contest or other promotion, performing an online service transaction, or contacting us by mail, phone or e-mail.

DATA COLLECTION

If you do nothing during your visit but browse through the MDOT Web portal to read web pages or download information, mdot.ms.gov will automatically gather and store certain information about your visit. Your Web browser software transmits most of this information to us; however, this information does not identify you personally.

We automatically collect and store only the following information about your visit:

- The numeric IP address (an IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer whenever you are surfing the Web) from which you access the mdot.ms.gov Web portal. MDOT software can then map these IP addresses into Internet domain names, for example, "xcompany.com" if you use a private Internet access account, or "yourschool.edu" if you connect from a university's domain;
- The type of browser and operating system used to access the MDOT Web portal;
- The date and time you access the MDOT Web portal;
- The pages you visit, including graphics loaded from each page and other documents you download, such as PDF (Portable Document Format) files and word processing documents; and
- If you were referred to the MDOT Web portal from another Web site, mdot.ms.gov captures the address of the referring Web site.

MDOT uses this information to make the Web portal more useful to visitors--to learn about the number of visitors to our site and the types of technology our visitors use.

USE OF COOKIES

A "cookie" is a small text file that a Web site can place on your computer's hard drive, for example, in order to collect information about your activities on the site or to make it possible for you to use an online "shopping cart" to keep track of items you wish to purchase. The cookie transmits this information back to the Web site's computer which, generally speaking, is the only computer that can read it. Most consumers do not know that "cookies" are being placed on their computers when they visit Web sites. If you want to know when this happens, or to prevent it from happening, you can set your browser to warn you when a Web site attempts to place a "cookie" on your computer.

GOOGLE ANALYTICS, SPROUT SOCIAL AND TRANSISTOR

We use a tool called "Google Analytics" to collect information about use of this site. Google Analytics collects information such as how often users visit this site, what pages they visit when they do so, and what other sites they used prior to coming to this site. We use the information we get from Google Analytics only to improve this site. Google Analytics collects only the IP address assigned to you on the date you visit this site, rather than your name or other identifying information. MDOT does not combine the information collected through the use of Google Analytics with personally identifiable information (PII). Although Google Analytics plants a permanent cookie on your web browser to identify you as a unique user the next time you visit this site, the cookie cannot be used by anyone but Google. Google's ability to use and share information collected by Google Analytics about your visits to this site is restricted by the Google Analytics Terms of Use (as amended for government websites) and the Google Privacy Policy. You can prevent Google Analytics from recognizing you on return visits to this site by disabling cookies on your browser.

We use a third-party service called "Sprout Social" to manage our social media content, to create and schedule content on MDOT's social media accounts, to monitor activity on these accounts (e.g., messages or posts by members of the public), and to produce analytics reports for multiple networks and profiles. The social networking accounts that MDOT may manage through Sprout Social include the agency's accounts on Twitter, YouTube, Facebook, Instagram, and LinkedIn, which are all platforms that MDOT uses to promote its news, information, tips, and resources for consumers and others who may not be regular visitors to MDOT Web resources. Because Sprout Social allows MDOT to measure and assess activity or traffic on its social media accounts, we have access to content from users who post or otherwise engage in public discussions on any or all of these social media platforms. We also use Sprout Social to follow discussions through specific hashtags and MDOT-related keywords during Twitter chats, Facebook Live events, etc. MDOT may collect limited information in specific circumstances to measure the overall number of followers, number of retweets, and similar statistical information to evaluate the effectiveness of MDOT's social networking web sites. Sprout Social analytics tool automatically makes other information available to MDOT (e.g., sex, location, interests, other handles or pages followed or liked by MDOT's followers), and such information is collected, tracked and archived in an aggregated, non-identifiable form and, thus, does not constitute PII.

We also use a third-party service to host and serve our podcast episodes, Transistor. Transistor uses Google Analytics and MixPanel to monitor and analyze web traffic and can be used to keep track of a user's behavior through the use of cookies and usage data. Transistor's ability to use and share information collected by Google Analytics and MixPanel is restricted by each services' Terms of Use and Privacy Policy. You can prevent Google Analytics and MixPanel from recognizing you by disabling cookies on your browser.
